- The above reference is an excellent reference and presents several further generations of Milner families who descended from John and Elizabeth (Ringrose) Milner, whose family was one of the Yorkshire settlers to Granville, Annapolis County. Because my interest is in the Wright family (I am a descendant of Ward and Anna (Milner) Wright), I have focused on only the first four generations of descendants of Jonathan and Ann (Oliver) Milner, who resettled from Granville to Clements Township. For anyone looking for their Milner roots, this should be enough to connect you to the birth, marriage, death and census records below.

Jonathan Milner, Yorkshire to Annapolis County, NS

First Generation

1. John Milner¹. Born on 18 Feb 1700 in (Christened Date) Rillington, Yorkshire, England. John died in Helperthorpe. Yks., England, on 12 Aug 1763; he was 63. Occupation: Husbandman.

The Milner families came from the villages of Weaverthorpe, Helperthorpe and Butterwick in Yorkshire, England. There were two Jonathan Milner families who came to Nova Scotia. Jonathan, the son of John and Elizabeth (Ringrose) Milner, and his wife Ann Oliver, with their two children John and Ann, appear on the passenger list for the two ships “Prince George” and “Thomas and William”, sailing from the Port of Scarborough, Yorkshire, 1774. Together, the two ships carried 148 men, 91 women, and 11 children. They arrived in Halifax May 14-16, 1774. Jonathan was listed as “age 26, farmer, seeking better employment”. Also on board were his mother Elizabeth, his sister Elizabeth and his sister Ann with her husband Robert Mills and their four children. All these Yorkshire settlers first went to Granville, across the river from Annapolis Royal. Their farms stretched from the river back over the north mountain to the Bay of Fundy. The farms were laid out on long strips 50 rods wide. If the family was involved in shipping, they had their wharf on the Bay of Fundy shore and had family roads going over the mountain. Jonathan settled first at Granville and later moved to the new township of Clements, before 1791. The second Jonathan, who was Jonathan’s nephew, came with his wife Mary Welbourn and their son John, sometime between 1815 and 1818. His aunt, Sarah Lovel, with her granddaughter Hannah Lovel, probably came with them. They settled in Granville.^{Ref. 1}

On 3 Feb 1825 when Anne Martha was 17, she married Jacob Long, son of Peter Long (1786-11 Jan 1858) & Martha Langley (1788-21 Feb 1835). Born in 1807. Jacob died on 1 Apr 1887; he was 80. Buried in Clementsvale Cemetery.

Jacob may be a son or a brother of Peter. There was 21 years difference, so could be either. In his marriage in 1825, he was named as "Jacob Jr.", although this is not seen in any other records. The Long genealogy (Long and Davis, 1987)³¹ records this Jacob but without confirmation of relationship to Peter. However, they also list a Jacob as a son of Peter, with no further information.

Nov. 16, 1863, age 29.³¹ The names of Anna Catherine and Hannah Maria Faith came from Beulah Wright.

*Martha was the grandmother of Wellington ("Wellie") Brown of Spring Hill, Annapolis Co., a well-known sports guide in the area. He had a large cooking pot which he claimed the first Long's brought with them from Holland, which may fit in with Chute's listing of John Jacob Long as being from Prussia, and census records of family origins as German. Wellie remembers his grandmother Martha had a brother John who had gone to the United States. He remembered his Uncle's visits to his N.S. home.³¹
